

MAY DAY AT STONY BROOK

MAY 1, 2013

The Graduate Student Employees Union (GSEU) at Stony Brook has organized a FREE UNIVERSITY on May Day to actualize the promise of what we believe public higher education should be: free, open, and accessible to all. By holding classes outside—in public view rather than behind closed doors—we will be the openness, the transparency, and the equal access that we demand from Stony Brook as a public university. The Free University will also be a public demonstration of the value of Stony Brook's faculty and graduate student labor. Together, we resist the privatization and commodification of a university education. And we stand in solidarity with the principles of the Free University movement, as articulated by the Free University of NYC.
